

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : More brookie streams that no one fishes

Re: More brookie streams that no one fishes

Author: : afishinado

Date: : 2013/6/18 15:36:32

URL:

Quote:

k-bob wrote:

jeff, maybe some of the runoff from the community to east goes in to arrowhead lake?

I did not fish the lower trib down past the quarry, it is tiny and leaves the state forest. still, I have seen brookies near industrial sites before.

too bad the lower trib is on private land where it enters the Lehigh. might take a run at it if the confluence were in the state forest.

the arrowhead lake dam, btw, has water coming off the top, so trout creek may be too warm for brookies.

Trout Creek is listed on the WT Production list and I fished it successfully a long time ago. Keep looking, good stuff.