If I end up there it will be in the afternoon so I'm not sure if u gents will still be around. What time is everyone planning on sticking arnd until?

Should I make it up I would like to brush up on my casting but most importantly work on line management as I'm all kinds of confused in certain/many situations. Would also appreciate reviewing knots, especially leader ---> tippet.

Willing to take any of the newbies arnd and discuss my limited knowledge, give a few pointers, chew the fat and let them have a bunch of laughs at my expense.
