I'm in the Pittsburgh area and am trying to figure out where to go fishing tomorrow morning. I like Neshannock, but I'm afraid it's probably going to be too warm and too low.

I would like to fish the Yough, but it's a big river and I haven't had much luck there.

Anybody have any suggestions for a good place to go wading tomorrow morning near Pittsburgh? The Yough is the only game in town I hear for cold water.

Your thoughts?

Thanks,

Charlie
