

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Interesting Study

Re: Interesting Study

Author: : troutbert

Date: : 2013/6/21 8:34:57

URL:

Quote:

KeithS wrote:

Kinda kills the "Stocking- Over- Native argument, huh?"

If you wanted to go fishing for wild brook trout from about now through September, which would you choose:

Streams with wild brook that are: 1) stocked over? 2) not stocked over?

If you read the posts on here by the brook trout fishermen, you see that they nearly always try to find streams that are NOT stocked. And that's true for me.

The reason is that your chances of catching wild brook trout of decent size, i.e. 8 inches or larger, are much greater on streams that are not stocked.