I was once lined by a wiper who took my panfish popper. I was fishing for bluegills at Lake Arthur with a 6wt and using a Medalist reel with about 5 yards of backing (I didn't know that at the time.) The fish exploded on my poppers and tore toward the middle of the lake and popped my line off in about 30 seconds. One big fish.

I've had several wipers take me 10 yards or so into my backing.
