I fished Clarks last night, the cicadas are still there. Lots of them. I tried several different flies, had best luck with yellow sallies. Tried my new cicada fly, had difficulty getting a hook up. I think it may just be a little large for the size of the trout there, since it seems the bulk of the fish are running 9-11" or so. BTW, I fished the cicada with the wings and without, I had more hits without....
