She just wanted a hug and a kiss,

I carry something called a "Screecher" air horn, and pepper mace when I'm camping, but the more I read about real life experiences the less I want to "spray" a bear. From what I've read in several reports it only seems to piss them off more, and it's not good unless you get it right in their eyes, if you have the balls to get that close you probably don't need bear spray.
