Thank you for the kind words. Lol

Beast, you don't have to stay at a place with river access. I can think of 11 spots on the WB right off the top of my head where you can park and walk in. Once on river....go anywhere you'd like as long as you are inside the high water mark. That will apply to the WB or Main. From the dam down to the gamelands, it New York water. Gamelands and south is PA and NY. The water coming from the dam is 42-44 degrees so it's knee achingly cold. The cold water usually extends the entire length of the WB and almost 10 miles down the main stem. I think that this is a conversation better had in private. Check your PM.
