I think this would be a hard stat to come up with numbers on. I've caught the same brown on the LJ at least 4 years in a row. I know for a fact that he's been hooked at least 1 other time. I pulled a pheasant tail out of his lip last year. I have seen him grow from about 18 to 20 inches +. He is always in just about the same spot. Got him again over Memorial Day week. But here again, that is all C&R around Barree.
