

---

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Thanks for the Infection

Re: Thanks for the Infection

Author: : wildtrout2

Date: : 2013/6/27 16:51:12

URL:

Pennypack, that was a cicada killer that you saw, not a large yellowjacket. It's actually a wasp, and it eats out the insides of a cicada and lays it's eggs inside the body cavity. You'll see them dragging the cicada down into their holes, which you'll see as a small mound of fine dirt. Usually you will see several/many holes. They will not harm you. I've worked around lots of them without incident.