Who's to blame for this corruption of cut,fake rods?

Uhm, people who don't want to hold up a 9oz stick by one end and wave it over their head for a whole day, mostly.

The answer is anyone that's giving out the information/tools to do so.

It would seem you should be happy they're out there, because with every sawed down "banty" made your 12' log goes up in value.
