Heading down to the 150th Gettysburg Reenactment. Taking a long week off work and plan on doing some fly fishing down there in the Gettysburg area. I've fished the Conewago before, and I've been told to steer clear at this time of the year.

I'm interested in fishing YB for the first time, and I'm wondering about access/fishing, whether I should, or whether anyone has another recommendation for either trout or bass on the fly in a stream roughly within 30-45mins of the Gettysburg area. I believe I spoke with Fishidiot last time about a trip down in that area. Thank you for all your help, Tight Lines!

P.S. Looking for some easier wading for my father, if possible. Thanks Again guys, keep up the great work!
