LouM - thanks for the suggestion on the Stealth Bombers. I hadn't heard of them before. After researching on the web I was intrigued, now I've got a handful of those in the box in chartreuse and yellow. They remind me somewhat of the Clouser Floating Minnow that I use often, but the bomber seems like it may have a little more action & make a little more commotion on the water.

Some buggers may have to be next on the vise.
