Finally had a chance to fish the Monocacy. Ended up with four and missed a few others. I felt it was going showing for my first time there. Water temp about 66 degrees. Had to pull out the stops as no one fly was the ticket. Seemed to do good on scuds though. Missed a few on a olive wooly bugger. Most fish on the small side but they put up a good battle including a jumper. Despite the thunder storm threat weather held out. Access seemed to be limited but I was able to find a parking space. Probably would fish it again. Definitely fish in that creek.
