Headed out to a spot tucked away in northern York Co. On the Conewago last night that I hadn't been to in while. Conditions seemed perfect for some topwater popper action with the recent rains and the water still slightly stained.

Caught many redeyes and big sunnies right off. Smallmouth action startin pickin up. Then I found a good spot and hit jackpot. Caught lots of smallies around 10" and a couple between 12-14". Once the action started picking up the anticipation of a bass striking on about every two or three casts was just the fix I needed for the day.

Caught every fish on a single chartreuse popper. Best day I've had in a long time. I had an absolute blast catching good hard fighting bass today on a five weight fly rod, and for that I am grateful.
