Remember George, "experience" actually means you made more mistakes than anyone else.... 😞

Interesting theory. Don't know for sure, but I can tell you when you cast with "S" curves in a narrow current lane, if the "S" spills into an adjacent current lane, the fly motor boats back and forth...not good.

Keeping your tippet all in the same current lane is important. Ditto when trying to use two flies (for better visibility) when midging. One drags the other.
