I realize it draws crowds, and not a wild trout fishery, but it is a fun place to fish. And when I take my wife, we stop at the grille, which is not too bad.

Although they look like goldfish, I can't help but target those Palomino trout. They pull like a train. But I don't think they are doing so well in that environment. Last time I went 6/29, I did not see as many (but I only fished a few hours) and the one I did see, and caught, did not look so healthy.
