well come hell or high water i'll have two of those three things listed and a good few of these for tomorrow's adventure. my only question are my sz 20's small enough. the only thing i have to compare it to is the if i remember correctly sz 22 that volkenurse gave me at the jam. here they are left to right, a pattern i found in youtube(tails will be getting changed), the one i got from volkenurse, and a bare sz 20 hook i have a dozen or so of.

DJ, I can only tell you I tie and was using size 24. Last year I got away with 22's but 20 may too big although you could use the size 20 and tie them smaller as if they were 24's.

24's are probably the better choice...unfortunately DJ, I only had the 22's that day. I tie the 22's when I'm to lazy to go smaller.
