

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : big maine? brookies

Re: big maine? brookies

Author: : jdaddy

Date: : 2013/7/3 9:37:56

URL:

Quote:

dryflyguy wrote:

Gee bee -

Sounds like you've fished up there a bit.

I'm going in sept. If there's nothing hatching then, I kinda figure maybe I can take some on terrestrials.

Have you ever fished there at that time of year?

Generally speaking, most Maine waters do not get the hatch activities that PA and NY get. Last week 90% of the time we were there no surface activity was noted, yet the fish would smash damn near anything. I'd be packing ants of all varieties (saw a bunch of flying ants but not on water) and caddis.