Squatch -

When the cicadas were on central PA streams in 2008 - I tied patterns with orange foam, and ribbed with heavy black thread.

And I also tied some with black foam, ribbed with heavy orange thread.

And they both worked equally well.

As for wings, I used orange deer hair on some, and used swiss straw on others - again, both worked equally well.

Guess what I'm getting at - is that the pattern isn't very important.

If the fish are taking cicadas - they'll hit anything that's close IMO
