years ago i used to use a martin classic fly reel .It,s a click and pawl cheap reel, but I really liked it. The last one I had got dropped and crank handle bent and is very wobbly so i've been looking for a spool. I looked all over and did'nt find any finally tried ebay and found a 54 reel for 24.00 I bought that and matched it to my new redington 5 wt. went back on ebay and found what I was originally looking for a spool for a martin classic 65 so I bought it for 9.99 i"m really happy. I like ebay.tight lines, john
