I use a buff in the cold and to protect against the sun. Bug spray on them helps with the skeeters. I've always had problems with my sun glasses fogging up when using the buff. Simms makes a buff like piece that has venting where your mouth is. I'm sure that helps with the fogging problem. I've not used one so I don't know for sure. For sun protection, I find a wide brim hat instead of a baseball cap and the buff is effective and more comfortable.
