

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : TFO BVK 10' 5 weight

Re: TFO BVK 10' 5 weight

Author: : geebee

Date: : 2013/7/6 16:15:29

URL:

I've cast the #7,8 and #9 at a show when helping a buddy choose a stick.

Nicely made good looking rods, that compare well to Redington and Greys higher end rods.

Those rods had pretty fast actions as does my CPX #5 which is for weighted streamers and indicator nymphing for mid range casts, and perhaps big dries and terrestrials.

What it and I suspect yours won't do is protect the tippet very well- which I have a softer mid-action 4wt for. I'd not use anything less than 5x on it. IMHO not the stick for light line nymphing or delicate dry flyes, but others might disagree.