Talking to Bart from the DRC, Shehawken creek swelled from flash flood and took out all of the 50' tall trees lining its bank. I understand that you couldn't get near it if you wanted to. FUDR is helping the PFBC get things back in order.

DaveS is right....NY license doesn't operate on a calendar year like PA. That sucks because I was shooting for late September which won't impact us season license holders or those planning in renewing a season license. Let me know if it will impact the decision for first timers. BTW, NY does do lifetime licenses for out of state. They are $450 (aprox).

Late September should give us hebes, Oct caddis, olives, iso, various caddis, peach fly, etc. If the weather conditions continue as summer has started, we should have plenty of water.
