Do you mean like a pistol Pete? If you're going to fish true spinning lure on a treble hook, you'd probably be better off with a spinning rod... You can get propeller blades for flies though. I have a couple pistol Petes that I bought from an online fly shop, but have yet to fish them.

I don't think I could bring myself to fish an actual spinning lure on a fly rod. Just seems wrong. I think I could fish a pistol Pete ironically, though...
