Jack, get objective. there's no anger here. I posted on tippet and get a lecture. now, you all concede that to HA but I don't. he has wisely absented himself or had you noticed? he's your guy that's fine. but again read the posts and tell me that that know it all high handed tone was called for. You don't consider that pedantic condecending tone personal? I do. I say, cool down and read the posts and you'll agree that HA was way out of line. I supervised people for fourty years but I never backed someone's mistake. here's our opportunity to say, you know, this guys right....my guy was wrong.....don't let this opportunity slip by. can we start to call me JP?
