I like that sort of wing, but more sparsely tied. It reminds me of Datus Proper's trico, and he learned a lot from Marinaro, so the similarity is not surprising. As an aside, he also claimed that he only fished one size trico, and I think it was #18. He said it didn't matter, and he definitely put in some time on PA streams. I'm not confident enough to try it myself, but thought it interesting.
