This is very sad to hear. It is a good example of why we must strive to be diligent in our cleaning of our gear whether felt soles or watercraft. Many users on here enjoy both fly fishing and canoeing/kayaking.

Regardless of how you feel about the felt-sole issue this is why we must do our best to avoid this. Can you imagine being the one to blame for this?

Someone just ruined the favorite trout fishing of a lot of anglers around here. And despite the fact that some on here will say MS was already going to doom the creek anyhow, it did not.

What disappointing news, I fear it will not be the last we here of the spread of Didymo in Pa.
