Well surgery... 11:30 this morning. There is no good time to be without full use of your arm for 6 month.... May as well do it now. I can cast well left handed but, that right now is the least of my worries. Lets go with lack of income on the top of the list.... It's been greatly diminished as it is because of the pain in my right shoulder. Try installing drywall with this kinda pain in your shoulder. Hell, just swing'n a hammer is outta the question. I still seem to be pretty good at tell'n the guys what to do and when to do it tho....Hopefully I'll be back here at the ranch later on thisafter. 73 de n3hq n signing off. In other words, see you'ns guys down the line.
