

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Tricos??

Re: Tricos??

Author: : paparise

Date: : 2013/7/10 11:58:02

URL:

you're usually not casting super long distances so if you can't see your fly on the water you can usually see enough of your line to know approximately where your fly is. If you use the CDC comparadun the white tuft is usually pretty visible. Also, w/ CDC you can usually just blow on your flies to get them floating again.