$250 seems so expensive for such a simple rod! I bought a fountainhead head rod for like $55 here and it seems to cash just fine. I ended up deciding I don't really like it (it's not as fun to cast as a traditional fly rod, and I can't fish small wooded streams, line is a pain to manage), but that's beside the point. At your price range you could buy several different fountainhead rods if you decide to get into it. I'm planning to let my kid brothers use mine to catch sunnies.
