I just wanted to bump this thread because I started fly tying recently and it's definitely confusing looking at all the hooks in the fly shop.

FrequentTyers post was very helpful!!

I was just wondering, does anyone ever use hooks from the regular hook section of the fishing store? It just seems they are sometimes cheaper than the fly tying hooks. I'm guessing it would never be an option for dry flies, but what about everything else?

Thanks in advance for any insights.
