A bit of information for everyone attending. I unfortunately found out yesterday that I need to fly overseas this weekend but was able to push it off until Sunday because I do not want to miss this event. My cohorts (H-A and Dog) wanted me to let everyone know that they and some others will hang in until around 4PM. I will have to leave around noon to get home and get ready for my next day flight. So basically I'll get there around 5:30 (H-A has threatened to get there early too and I know Dog can handle early) and others will be there until around 4, so that's quite a few hours to stop by and get some food, fishing and/or pointers.
