Another no hackle fly that works nicely is the CDC and deer caddis.

Sooner or later you're probably going to want hackle anyway. Feather-craft (and probably others) sell rooster hackle for bigger(10,12,14) dry flies for about $18.

And there are starter sets available with more than one size and color.

I just picked up a Metz combo pack with 3 colors for small flies(16-24) for $40 at Cabelas. Probably enough to tie a couple hundred flies. There are different options available size and color wise.
