Take your 5WT and some Clouser Minnow flies and give it a try. There are small bluefish and flounders in the NJ surf this time of year and you can handle them on a small, trout rod (just make sure you give your gear a good cleaning afterwards as salt water is tough). If you can be on the water at first light in the morning and at dusk you stand the best chance of hooking something. Mid day on a summer beach has too much commotion and too many people.
