I had one on the other night on my 5 wt for 30 minures. I couldn't get him to come off the bottom of the stream. When I finally thought he was getting tired I went towards him to lift his head and net him , he made another run and popped me off was thinking if I had a heavier rod I could of landed him sooner. I was using 3x tippet. Going back next time with my 8wt. I would try a 6wt but I don't own one. It sure is fun though. Congrats on the carp.
