

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : What determines which trout are stocked?

Re: What determines which trout are stocked?

Author: : pcray1231

Date: : 2013/7/17 15:54:56

URL:

Mike can probably give you the best, final answer.

I've always believed:

1. If wild fish are present, often they'll avoid stocking the wild species to prevent too much competition between the stockies and wilds.
2. The species that the PFBC thinks will do best in the water. Temps/pH come into play, but gradient and type of holding water are perhaps more important, as all 3 species have different preferences for holding water.