I fished the WB of the D this past weekend. As K-fish said, the EB is kinda warm and all but the first few miles of the MB is too warm. Anywhere along the WB is fishing well. The water temps are in the 40's and 50's, and right now you can catch trout anywhere there, depending on the day, the flow, the hatches and of course....the fish.

How did you do? Float it or wade it?
