Since I started flyfishing 6 years ago, Opening Day has become almost irrelevant to me in the Southwest part of the state. All the creeks worth fishing locally have special regulations and the wild streams aren't stocked. I don't harvest, so the arbitrary date in April has no effect on me. Toward the end of April, I may venture into Approved Trout Waters open regulations on occasions. The only impact is that beginning April 1 until Opening Day, my favorite bluegill lake is off limits.
