

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Bass flies

Re: Bass flies

Author: : The_Sasquatch

Date: : 2013/7/18 9:13:33

URL:

Thanks t-ber. I actually did look up the clouser crayfish last night! I don't have any of the furry foam, but I like the pattern a lot.

I'll have a couple of hours tomorrow evening to whip up a few more flies for Saturday's float. I'll probably stick with this crayfish pattern for now, see how it does, and adjust from there. I'll tie one up w/ marabou claws too, and with a little less weight. The heavy weight, I feel like I have a good chance at getting a carp to suck it up.

I'm also tying up that white bunny thing. I really like that idea. I'll try to post a picture of that beast when I'm done. Also a bunch of black buggers. I should be set. Thanks for the ideas, everyone.