Wow, thats pretty heavy. I would probably prefer to be buried with my equipment if I didnt have a blood relative to take it up. Scaratch that, die somewhere on a river rod in hand. No doubt the yough would oblige me. That river attempts to kill me half a dozen times a year and Im 25. I can only imagine what it will do when im 75.

Squatch, you gotta get his mailing address and mail him pics of his gear and your future catches. Guy might lose his memory and wonder who the heck this is, but thats one way to "pay" for the gear. Keep him in touch with what he called his life.
