I wanted to see where this goes before weighing in: I comp fish and have been doing so for the last 4 years. It is a blast in my opinion and I'm not going to try and change anyone's mind. What I will say is if just dragging a heavy nymph in a hole was all it takes to win then I must be going to the world championships. NOT!!! It is a challenge.

Have you ever heard this saying EFORT = RESULTS the best and top anglers spend 1000s of hours honing their skills, and that is what makes them consistent and usually on top of the leader boards.

If you haven't fished a comp you should do so before expressing opinion's that just aren't true. The guys that fish the comps put their waders on just like everyone else and in my opinion are some of the most ethical helpful, courteous people on the streams. Yes always a bad apple or two however you can never get away from that. Just look at the attitudes on this board at times.

Give it a try or not you will be welcomed with open arms.
