As long as they don't skirt regs or interfere with the spawn, it's hard to find a rationale against. It's probably less pressure than Spring creek during the sulphurs or a PAFF jam. Less because their time on the water is limited from what I recall.

Edited to add:

If the PFBC approves these, there should be some standardized way of publicizing dates, locations, number of anglers so that folks can plan accordingly. There may be other competitions beside Troutlegend and it would be difficult to search. The events section of this forum might be the place to do so.
