

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : 8lb bass uncatchable?

Re: 8lb bass uncatchable?

Author: : krayfish

Date: : 2013/7/19 15:30:16

URL:

Since you know his location, try 30 minutes after sunset or 30 minutes before sunrise. You may catch him heading out to feed or returning from feeding. #2 circus peanut. Keep your silhouette out of his field of vision if possible.

I'll also second the idea of bait under a float. Since it's a moving water, try catching a 7-8" chub away from his location and use it for bait.

If you land this beast, please post photos. I didn't think a bass that big could live in wyomissing creek.