

---

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Competition Fishing on Spring Creek

Re: Comp fishing on Spring Creek

Author: : afishinado

Date: : 2013/7/21 6:51:24

URL:

Quote:

Heritage-Angler wrote:

The area where they're fishing Spring Creek is downstream of Bellefonte, and one of the best areas for cool water temps on the stream, due to the influx of cold water from feeder stream(s).

Water temps have been reported at 65 degrees, and the flow for Spring Creek is almost double the average for this time of year.

Knowing that the conditions are OK to fish safely, are you objecting to people fishing there that are not part of the competition?

Agreed. If the conditions are okay, I see no problem.

Competitive fishing is not for me, but I see no reason to have issues with the guys that enjoy competing. I believe the comp guys do everything possible to not interfere or impact fellow FFers that are not participating event.

I suggest you check out the TroutLegend site. They are a good bunch of guys and some of the best FFers you will ever meet. The comps are listed there for you to either join-up.....or avoid. The choice is yours.

I suggest we unite against the polluters and exploiters of our streams....not our fellow fly-fishers and anglers.