Gfdolec,

Glad you could make it out. I was in the Milesburg section yesterday. The water was really in good condition, clear but good.

This weekend I saw 3 dead fish float by. According to others, that is what they saw as well. 2 big bows and a brown. They all came from above the venue and I would guess from the bait anglers below Tally. None of the competitors reported fighting or landing any rainbows this size. The medium size brown I was able to grab and see if I could revive it, only to notice it had a half dollar size bite out of its back. One of the crazier things I witnessed was on a 16cm fish I landed. It had a metal ring completely around its body and was beginning to grow into it. We were able to get the ring off the fish. I am not sure if this fish will survive with the wound it had, but it has to have a better chance for survival then with a metal ring.
