

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Competition Fishing on Spring Creek

Re: Comp fishing on Spring Creek

Author: : Heritage-Angler

Date: : 2013/7/23 7:52:04

URL:

Quote:

geebee wrote:

I wondered if the guys ever use dries....

I'd imagine trying to nail a number of fish on dries in a comp is the equivalent of a six foot putt in golf - all in the head.

Yes they do use dries. I've seen competitors have two rods rigged up - one for nymphing, and another on the bank with a dry setup.

Saves time making the switch if the fish start actively feeding on top. They also do a fair bit of dry/dropper fishing when conditions warrant it.

There are competitions that even specify using a single dry fly setup for a session.