This year was full of great new product introductions. Great new rods came out from Winston, Redington, Hardy, etc. But I'm always waiting to see what comes off the bench of Jerry Siem from Sage. This year boasted two new releases: the Method, which replaces the TCX, and the all-new Motive, a "low" cost saltwater rod.

We talked about the Method's release in an earlier post and many asked for a review... here it is – straight from iCast 2013.
