it's still a creek, but they're trying to get that changed to river.

walleye can be had up to the hershey dam.

it's neither a numbers nor size fishery. but yet can be both...depending were you go.

it's all a warm water fishery. there are a few cold water creeks that feed it, once in a blue moon browns can be had down and around them.

average temps in the summer are in the upper 70*s to low 80*s.

though early last sunday it was in the mid 60*s.
