I plan to stay friday night at Pittman Riverside gampground My thought was to use that as an end point friday eve. I thought that could be the meeting point friday afternoon (entrance to the campground) from there depending what time we get started we we would select a put-in spot.

This is just what I was thinking...any other thoughts?

This plan is fine.

To be effective, it would be best to announce a link up point and time here on this thread so that readers will know where and when the event is (don't start another thread, all this does is create confusion). Personally, unless otherwise announced, I'll be at the T-town boat ramp at a time based on a work schedule that isn't clear for me yet. Due to a roof rack glitch, I will probably not have my boat and will wade fish instead.

As of this morning, the J is at 3.6' which is excellent for wading.
